Call for Democratic Territorial Convention.

HEADQUARTERS DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Prescott, Arizona, August 10, 1896.
A Democratic Territorial Convention is hereby called to meet at Prescott, Arizona, at 10 o'clock a. m. on September 16, 1896, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Delegate to Congress, selecting a Territorial Central Committee, and the transaction of such other business as shall come before the Convention.

The basis of representation for the different counties shall be one delegate for each fifty votes or fraction thereof over twenty five, cast for the Hon. M. A. Smith in 1896. Each county will therefore be entitled to the following number of delegates:

Apache.....	5
Cochise.....	10
Cocconino.....	7
Gila.....	6
Graham.....	10
Maricopa.....	28
Mohave.....	4
Navajo.....	8
Pima.....	12
Pinal.....	12
Yavapai.....	12
Yuma.....	4

Total.....120
Proxies will only be recognized when presented by bona fide residents of the county sought to be represented.

All persons who believe in the free and unlimited free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 are invited to participate in all primaries throughout the Territory.

W. A. HOWE, Chairman.
REESE M. LING, Secretary.

FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for the nomination of Sheriff of Cochise county, subject to the action of the County Democratic Convention. Respectfully,
SCOTT WHITE.

CHINA is advancing. She has just ordered sixty-seven carloads of beer from Milwaukee.

THE girls have kissed Hobson and Schley, and Sampson hasn't been heard from on that line yet. Just wait until Dewey comes home.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT is now worrying the republicans of New York state. This may be a case of a winner on a well merited war record.

DICTATOR AGUIBALDO is as impulsive as the weather bureau, but he is discerning enough to know when he is up against a hot wave.

THE horrors of war have been nothing compared to the starvation of soldiers since the protocol was signed. Who is the guilty man?

A "business men's convention" that met recently in Detroit "resolved" that the United States should retain all the Philippine group and trade the islands for Canada.

QUININE has been more in demand at Santiago than pie or pudding. It is stated that one regiment of 450 men alone consumed an average of 5,400 grains a day.

THE worst is yet to come: in about a year from now the war will be fought all over again in the magazines. And some of them have not yet reached the Appomattox of the civil war.

WHEN you strike for right, strike hard, no matter on whom the blow may fall. This should be used effectively on the men who are accountable for the deaths of our brave soldiers.

WE had supposed the war was over and that soon the soldier boys would return triumphant. Instead of that we are to continue the war of investigations and the soldiers are coming back dead and starved.

REPORTS from democratic conventions up to date go to show that the party has no idea of adopting any of the Mark Hanna, Wall street or administration principles. The cause of the people has been given a thorough investigation, and the will of the people will be exerted this fall.

IT seems hardly fair that the volunteers should be kept in the army in order that the officers of the several regiments may be able to draw more pay than they could possibly earn by staying at home, or simply to have an opportunity to gratify their pride by the exertion of a little brief authority. Many of these privates have good positions and it must be very galling to be compelled to content themselves in peace and not even be allowed to express their wishes without the consent of the shoulderstrap gentry.—Noberty (Mo.) Democrat.

In today's issue appear the announcement of Scott White, who seeks the re-nomination for sheriff of Cochise county at the hands of the democratic nominating convention. Mr. White needs little introduction at our hands, having been prominently before the people of Cochise county for a number of years, never swerving from duty but upholding the law without fear or favor. His democracy has never been questioned, while his official acts have won for him the admiration of not only his own county but the entire Territory. Brave, courageous officers are to be appreciated, in the event of which Scott White will meet with but little opposition when he goes before the convention. His nomination is paramount to his election; he will lend weight to the party and assure a clean sweep for the democrats in November.

G. W. PITTOCK, one of the brightest newspaper men on this side of the continent, has accepted the editorship of "The Bisbee Department" of the Tombstone Prospector and has assumed command. Mr. Pittock was connected for some time with the Phoenix Republican, his magic pen and noticeable individualism placing that paper to the front as the leading administration organ, since which time it has amassed a fortune. His fame having reached the ancient pueblo, Pinhead Hughes secured Mr. Pittock's services for that sterling republican sheet, the Tucson Star, upon which he did excellent work some months, glittering editorials in denunciation of Hon. Mark Smith evidencing the fact that the pencil pusher was not a novice. Bowing to the wishes of an old-time friend and a seductive salary Mr. Pittock left Pinhead in the throes of a hot campaign and hid himself hither where, until the idea of November the politician and the balance of mankind will be made to wince under his caustic pen. We doff our hat to merit. One who can tint the gold, paint the lily or burn the sands of Sahara cannot but find many admirers in this remote section where journalism is in its infancy and the tried and true Bohemian seldom treads. We welcome Mr. Pittock with all the courtesy in our shop. We bow to our superior, promising to eschew politics, worship with the great and saintly and avoid all discussion on political, secular and other matters. When the eagle soars above, the bat should seek seclusion in its cave. Welcome, King George; thrice welcome!

A NATIONAL DISGRACE.

Is it any wonder the people of this country are complaining of the treatment accorded to the returning soldiers at Montauk Point, New York, and other places? That it is a disgrace to the good people of this land no one doubts. If they do doubt they should read the following from the pen of a gentleman who recently went to Camp Wikoff for the purpose of saving the lives of several of his friends who had been dumped there by one of the wretched transports from Santiago. He says:

"The 'yellow journals' have not exaggerated the situation in the least. There is no journal yellow enough or mendacious enough to exaggerate any of the evils of Camp Wikoff, and I don't know any language strong enough to describe the damnable manner in which our men have been treated there. If 'war is hell,' just plain, ordinary hell, there remains no fitting comparison for the national disgrace on Montauk Point.

"The camp is situated 115 miles from New York, and the transportation facilities are very poor. The Point would, perhaps, be a good place for men in strong health, but is a terrible situation for men suffering from fevers. The air is heavy, cold and damp; the dew is as heavy as a light shower, and it rains nearly every night.

"The men when first landed are placed in a detention camp for the alleged purpose of quarantining them until it is learned whether they have anything contagious. The quarantine pretention is a farce; the camp is not guarded, and any one can enter or leave it at will. There is also a general camp, a general hospital and a detention hospital. If a man gets into the detention hospital he never goes from there to the general hospital, because he can't walk to it. When he comes out of the detention hospital—if he does—he will probably sleep on the cold ground with the colder breeze chilling him to the bones.

"There are no floors in the tents, and men who are so sick that they cannot walk or even stand alone, lie on the cold ground, and more often than not, are drenched by rain. They receive no medical treatment, as a rule, unless they can reach the surgeon's tent, and men who are powerless to even crawl, lie for hours on the cold, damp ground, suffering for medical attention that they never receive."

And on the following day Secretary Alger proclaimed that everything at Montauk Point was in fairly good condition.

THERE will come a time in the lives of all men who fatten and grow rich on human misery, who put up prices with one hand and cut down the workingman's wages with the other—there will come a time when those men, though they live to accumulate the fabled wealth of a Golconda, will be willing to give every cent of it for less water than a tramp needs for a bath. And the man who grinds the poor man will not be the least of these.
